

PRIVACY STATEMENT

Sometimes, when you are active on my website or contact me, you are sharing personal data with me. I handle this data with care and observe the applicable laws and regulations. These laws and regulations regulate the storage and use of your personal data.

In this privacy statement I explain what data I collect from you and what I do with this data. This privacy statement applies to all interactions between you and To Face The World, regardless of the means of communication.

To Face The World, having its registered office at Dirk Hartoghstraat 4 in Amsterdam, is the controller of personal data as referred to in this privacy statement. Any questions or comments regarding your privacy can be sent to info@tofacetheworld.com.

What is personal data?

Personal data is any data that tells us something about you and can be used to identify you. This is, for example, your name, your contact or address details and your Citizen Service Number. Some of this data, such as ethnic origin, religion or a criminal record, is understood to be special personal data.

Special personal data

In some cases special personal data must be surveyed and listed to make the proper execution of the sessions possible. This concerns medical/psychological information that is collected and listed by me and laid down in writing. If you believe that I have unjustly or without your permission collected and recorded this information, please contact me at info@tofacetheworld.com and I will delete the recorded information.

Personal data of persons under 16 years of age

I do not intend to process personal data of persons under 16 years of age. However, I cannot verify whether a visitor to my websites and servers is over 16. If you are convinced that I have collected personal data from a minor without parental or guardian permission, please contact me at info@tofacetheworld.com and I will delete this information, if possible. If I collect data from persons under 16 years of age, I will always do so with the consent of their parent or guardian.

When do I process your personal data?

1. To be able to help you if you have any questions.

I will be happy to help you if you run into something or want to ask me something. You can call me, email me or fill in a form on the website. I may also receive your data through a third party in connection with my services. To be able to help you further I store some of your data. It enables me to know who you are and retrieve what we talked about the next time we are in touch.

If you ask me any questions, I will store the following data from you:

- Name
- E-mail address
- Your message

Legal basis: legitimate interest

2. To make and send you an offer/quotation

Before I start working for you, naturally I can send you an offer or a quotation for a programme. For this purpose I will store the following data from you:

- Name and address
- E-mail address
- Telephone number
- Company name (optional)
- Chamber of Commerce registration number (optional)
- VAT-ID number (optional)

Legal basis: legitimate interest

3. To execute an agreement, contact for a coaching session, make notes of coaching interviews, and make appointments with you and to provide you access to the online services.

If you use my services, of course you want to be helped and receive what you asked for. I store the following data for the execution of an agreement:

- Name and address
- E-mail address
- Telephone number

Legal basis: execution of the agreement.

4. To be able to invoice you and for debt collection.

Of course, the services you use must also be paid for. If you fail to pay, I will start debt collection proceedings. In connection with invoicing and debt collection, I will store the following data from you:

- Name and address
- E-mail address
- Telephone number
- Company name (optional)
- Chamber of Commerce registration number (optional)
- VAT-ID number (optional)
- Bank account details

Legal basis: legal obligation

5. To keep you informed of changes in my services.

If I make any changes to my services, general terms and conditions, privacy statement or other important matters, I will want to inform you. If you agree, I will use the following data to process your data in my newsletter system:

- Name
- E-mail address

Legal basis: execution of the agreement.

6. To send you my newsletters and free giveaways.

If you have informed me that you wish to receive my newsletters and the free giveaway, I will store the following data from you:

- Name
- E-mail address

Legal basis: permission

7. To sign up for webinars/master classes and to send you information about my webinars and (online) services.

If you have signed up for a webinar or have purchased a course, I will send you additional information (dates, times etc.). If you agree, I will store the following data from you:

- Name

- E-mail address

Legal basis: execution of the agreement.

Cookies and similar techniques I use

To Face The World uses functional, analytical and tracking cookies. A cookie is a small text file that is stored on your computer, tablet or telephone when you first visit a website. I use cookies with a purely technical functionality so that the website works as intended.

In addition, I use analytical cookies such as Google Analytics to study the behaviour of my visitors and to improve my website accordingly. Last but not least, I also sometimes use tracking cookies (Facebook pixel) so that I can offer you tailor-made content and advertisements. These include advertisers and social media companies.

If I need your permission to place cookies, I will ask you for it during your first visit to my website. I then also refer you to my cookie statement. You can opt out of cookies by configuring your internet browser so that it does not store any more cookies.

Transfer to partners

For the execution of my services I cooperate with various suppliers and partners.

These suppliers and partners include parties, who:

- take care of my administration (Wix & Manon Franken)
- send my newsletters (Ascent)
- handle my payments and debt collections (Moneybird & Paypal)
- take care of my webhosting (Wix)
- host my webinars/master classes (Zoom and Kajabi)
- take care of my bookkeeping
- host my platform (Kajabi & Stripe)

I have concluded processing agreements and/or non-disclosure agreements with sub-processors to ensure the security of your data. I only work with partners who can comply with the GDPR.

Some of my partners are located outside the European Economic Area (the countries within the European Union, Liechtenstein, Norway and Iceland). Your data may be processed in the United States and/or other countries where these companies have their cloud storage and servers and/or backups. I have agreed appropriate measures with these partners which are laid down in a processing agreement/Data Processing Addendum or in a model agreement of the European Commission (click here). Most of them have already signed and put into effect the stricter GDPR. This is how I ensure that your data is properly protected.

Transfer to third parties

In principle, I do not share your information or sell it to individuals or organisations outside To Face The World, except when it concerns partners as described above. Additionally, I may be obliged to transfer your data pursuant to a statutory duty.

The security of your data

To Face The World has appropriate technical and organisational security measures in place to protect your personal data from misuse, unlawful or unauthorised use and loss. All parties who process your data for me (sub-processors) or can inspect it (e.g. employees or temporary workers) sign a processing agreement or a non-disclosure agreement.

How long will your data be stored?

I use different storage periods for different data flows. Of course you always have the right to ask me to delete your data. More information can be found under the heading "Your rights".

Personal data:

Name, address details, telephone number and e-mail will be deleted one year after our last contact.

E-mail:

Any e-mails older than one year will be deleted unless they are still relevant to the execution of an agreement or the resolution of a dispute.

Invoices and offers:

Invoices and offers can be removed after the legal retention period of seven years. Until then your data will in any case remain in my invoicing system.

Data within the platform:

I delete the data you store within the platform one year after you last used the platform.

Newsletter:

You can remove your data from my newsletter system at any time.

Your rights

You have the right to inspect, correct and delete your personal data. In addition, you have the right to withdraw your permission to process the data or to object to To Face The World processing your personal data. You also have the right to data portability. You can send a request for inspection, correction, deletion or transfer of your personal data or a request to withdraw your permission or your objection to the processing of your personal data to info@tofacetheworld.com.

To make sure that the request for inspection has been made by you, I will ask you to enclose a copy of your identification with the request. Black out your passport photo, MRZ (machine readable zone, the strip with numbers at the bottom of the passport), passport number and Citizen Service Number (BSN) in this copy to protect your privacy

. If your request concerns a cookie, I ask you to include your ID as well. I will respond to your request as soon as I can, but no later than within four weeks. To Face The World also wishes to point out to you the possibility to file a complaint with the national supervisory authority, the Dutch Data Protection Authority.

Reporting a data breach

If, despite all precautions, a data breach should occur, I will comply with the obligation to report data breaches and, if necessary, will report this breach to the Dutch Data Protection Authority within 72 hours after its detection. If you should discover a data breach, I kindly ask you to share this information with me as soon as possible but in any case within 24 hours after you detected the loss by sending me an email to info@tofacetheworld.com. I will then be able to take immediate action.

Liability

This privacy statement relates only to the personal data that To Face The World processes for the purposes mentioned in this agreement. To Face The World does not accept any responsibility or liability for (the functioning and/or content of) websites or services of third parties.

Amendments to this statement

To Face The World may amend the content of this privacy statement at any time in response to new legal or regulatory developments or changes within my company. You can subscribe to my newsletter in which I will keep you informed of any changes.

In any case, I advise you to frequently consult my privacy statement in order to stay informed of my privacy policy. You agree to these amendments by the continued use of To Face The World's services.
